India became a sovereign democratic republic on 26th Jan 1950. The term socialist was added later.

India has a power to make ultimate decisions by itself which makes it sovereign.

There is a constitutional morality like rule of law, social justice, independence of Judiciary and so on which makes it socialist.

In India there is democratic form of government with (by the people, of the people and for the people) which is.

In this government the head of state is elected by the people making it Republic.

Thus, India can be called as a sovereign,
socialist, democratic republic.
