Q. Distinguish between Money Bill and Finance Bill

• Money Bills are Government bills / Treasury bills which are classified in Article 110(a) - 110(f). On the other hand Finance Bills are ordinary bills (though they are specially treated in Lok Sabha) and deal with all financial matters.

• The Certification of Money Bill is done by the Speaker of the Lok Sabha, in case of Finance Bill no such certification is required.

• Constitutionally Money Bill is a narrower concept than financial bill, but practically financial bills have a large scope. Reason being all money bills are financial bills but not all financial bills are money bills.

In case of financial bill Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha have equal powers but on the other hand in case of Finance Bill they can be only passed from Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha has ^{Veto} no powers.

Money Bills are not subjected to ^{suspensive} ~~the~~ Veto powers of President, on the other hand all Veto powers can be enjoyed on Finance Bill.
