

Asif

Q. Corporatization of OFB can promote 'Atmanirbhar Bharat', comment.

Ans. 'Atmanirbhar Bharat mission' is a mission to make India self reliant and to promote 'Make in India'. It includes the research, development and production of different kind of entities within India. Corporatization of Ordnance factory board is a step toward making the Ordnance sector more efficient and sufficient. This step will boost the efficiency of the sector in supply chain as well as cost effectiveness.

* Corporatization of OFB will help the 'Atmanirbhar Bharat' dream to becoming true in following ways.

↳ All the 41 factories has been divided into 7 sectors, which will produce near to all requirement of Indian military.

↳ This will reduce the dependency on imports, so the delivery chain and quality will improve.

↳ This step also give the cost effective solution for different products due to a feeling of competition.

Corporatization will check the main three concerns of Indian defence sector which are as follows

↓
High cost

↓
No-ontime delivery

↓
Low-quality products

So, the reform like corporatization of OFB ~~will~~ can promote 'Atma nirbhar Bharat' by checking all the above concerns in a very effective way. All kind of products like ammunition, explosive, troops luxury items, vehicles and ordnance will be produced in different factories with proper quality control and delivery to the defence of India.

It also will increase the confidence of troops on ground and will fulfill the principle, that is behind 'Atma-nirbhar Bharat mission'

Excellent!