

MPPSC MAINS

Vishal
Ratnakar

Don't write here

Q.no

Q 2

Why is Narmada called the life line of Madhya Pradesh?

200
words

Ans-

Narmada is one of the sacred rivers of the country. It flows majorly in Madhya Pradesh. Out of the total length i.e. 1312 km, it has 1077 km flow part in our state. Having such a long flow makes it very helpful for the sustaining the human life in Madhya Pradesh. Narmada not only satisfies the people with water but it also fulfills every aspect of being a river in terms of being sacred, being culturally attached to the different parts of the society and being able to develop various resources.

River Narmada has over 29 major, 135 medium and 3000 minor irrigation projects. All these projects aim to generate high percentage of power to satisfy the need of the various sectors in Madhya Pradesh.

UNIQUE IAS
STUDY CIRCLE SINCE: 1990

B-V, IVth Floor, Platinum Plaza New Market, Bhopal (M.P.)
Phone: 0755-4055002 Mobile: 9827239801
www.uniqueias.org

MPPSC MAINS

Q.no

Narmada also provide irrigation to the for an area of 27.5 lakh hectares. This helps the agrarian so economy of the Madhya Pradesh and help in the development rates. Further, Narmada flows through the 15 districts of Madhya Pradesh, thus aiding those districts with water supply and irrigation.

The flow of Narmada is beneficial for the neighbouring states of the Madhya Pradesh too like Gujarat, Maharashtra, Rajasthan etc. These states even have commonly projects to have proper development with the help of the river Narmada. Ex - Sardar Sarovar Project (MP, RJ, MH, GJ).

Narmada therefore adds up the charm to the Madhya Pradesh in some or the other way. Thus, Narmada is the life line of Madhya Pradesh.

