Q   ① Discernatory power of

Indian President

President is the Head of the State, he Acts on the advice of Council of Minister (C) but he has certain powers in which he had not to act on advice of Council of Minister i.e. Discernatory power

→ In case of death of P.M.
- He can ask any person to prove his majority

Discernatory Power of President

→ In case of no clear-cut majority

- He can call a person to prove his majority

→ When he returns a bill or puts a bill in his pocket

These power of president give certain rights to him in extraordinary situations of him over Council of Minister. Also because President of India is a Symbol of
