Q.

Elaborate Difference b/w Rule of law in UK with Admini. Law found in France. [75w]

Ans.

There is Rule of law i.e. equality before law in United Kingdom which means every person whether civil servant, ordinary men or private person is equal before law i.e. ~~treatme~~, treated in a same manner in the Court.

Whereas in France there are separate law and court for civil servant & ordinary men.

like there is ordinary court for ordinary men whose matters like family disputes, administration, of criminal matters ~~are~~ of ordinary men are dealt. These in ordinary court and these ordinary court does not interfere in the matter of civil servant.

→ Hence, in UK rule of law gives equal status to every citizen while in France differences exist in the treatment of ordinary and civil servants.
