Q. "In Current Context UNSC should be democratised". Discuss the above in context of India.

Ans

United Nation Security Council (UNSC) is a organisation with the objective of maintaining Security and Peace in the world with 5 Permanent member and 10 non-permanent member.

UNSC should be democratised

because

↳ No Representation to countries like Africa, Australia, India etc.

→ India being consisting of 17-18% of world population lacks representation.

→ As the largest democracy of the world India can be the good candidate for being a part of it.

→ And, with the time the member nations has also increased as to 193 from 52 leading for increase in permanent member.

But there are some hurdles too which are

- Veto of China not allowing India to become permanent member.
- Low HDI of India.
- India not a Military Superpower

Currently, 6 more members to add to Permanent Council is being in discussion in which Japan and Germany are two possible countries and out of remaining four India can be the best candidate from Asia.
